

NO WORRIES, HASSLE

YORK METAL PRODUCTS SHIPS TO THE UNITED STATES

Buying goods internationally can be risky. Each country has its own set of guidelines and laws to abide by, as well as taxes to be paid when a shipment arrives. If these matters are not taken into account, surprise charges and longer wait times may result. While we all love surprises, these aren't the kind of surprises anyone would welcome.

At York Metal Products, our goal is to make the complex simple, and that includes cross border shipping. When you order from us, the products will be delivered right to your door – no hassle, no extra charges, no surprises.

We know that failure to meet guidelines set by US Customs may result in costly and timely penalties for you. We work directly with a customs broker to ensure everything is taken care of upfront, including making sure that shipments are cleared as quickly as possible, are properly insured and will arrive within a reasonable timeframe.

Over the years we have realized that if we were not part of the shipping process, and it is left completely in the hands of the customer, our customers may experience hold ups and delays, which often mean extra freight costs.

York Metal Products always ships product with customs documents including NAFTA and Pro-Invoices with Harmonized System (HS) Tariff codes assigned to each product to ensure clearance through US customs. We also work with import and export brokerage companies that assist us when we require HS Tariff codes or if we need to clear on behalf of a customer who does not have a brokerage company of their own.

When you order from York Metal Products, the cost of shipping, taxes and all other fees are included in our quoted price, so when you receive your products, there will never be additional charges.

Since York Metal Products ships a variety of product, from spun or welded exhaust assemblies to full coating pan assemblies, we have built up a fair understanding of what is required to get product shipped smoothly across the US border.

When you order from York Metal Products, the cost of shipping, taxes and all other fees are included in our quoted price, so when you receive your products, there will never be additional charges.

We can handle all your shipping details or simply help you get the best price and delivery date. We work with all carriers and handle electronic data interchange (EDI) of shipping and transportation documents, as well as drop shipping or anything else you need to get your order moved from our plant to anywhere in the US.

As an added bonus, the current low Canadian dollar presents a great opportunity for US companies to purchase Canadian products at a much lower rate. So, in addition to hassle free shipping, you will receive top quality products at unbeatable prices.

Working with us also brings two important elements in the manufacturing process together—design and production—reducing unnecessary costs, helping to solve unique problems and driving innovation. We specialize in new product and process development, simplifying even the most complex metal fabrication assemblies through our unique combination of high-tech equipment, an expert team and a start-to-finish value-based approach. And, we will collaborate with you on any custom designs you have in mind.

Visit our website at yorkmetalproducts.com or give us a call at 905-660-7238 and REQUEST A QUOTE TODAY!

